About the Book

Homes is a beautifully illustrated children's book that tells the story of a young refugee family's journey to find a new home. Written by Kelcey Coe and illustrated by Marina Budhos, Homes is a heartwarming and hopeful story that teaches children about the importance of empathy and compassion.

The story follows a young girl named Asha as she and her family flee their home country due to war. They travel to a new country, where they are met with both kindness and prejudice. Asha and her family eventually find a new home in a welcoming community, where they can finally feel safe and at peace.

Homes is a powerful and moving story that will resonate with children of all ages. It is a story about the importance of home, family, and community. It is also a story about the resilience of the human spirit.
