The Majestic South Nahanni River

The Nahanni River system consists of two main branches: the South Nahanni River and the North Nahanni River. Our journey will focus on the South Nahanni River, which originates in the towering Mackenzie Mountains and meanders through a pristine wilderness before joining the Liard River. With its pristine waters, cascading waterfalls, and towering canyons, the South Nahanni River offers a breathtaking backdrop for our adventure.

Cirque of the Unclimbables and Virginia Falls

One of the most iconic landmarks on the South Nahanni River is the Cirque of the Unclimbables. This sheer-walled canyon, rising over 1,200 meters high, is home to some of the most challenging and unclimbed peaks in North America. The magnificence of the Cirque of the Unclimbables is complemented by Virginia Falls, a thunderous waterfall that plunges over 90 meters into a deep pool below. Witnessing the power and beauty of Virginia Falls is a truly awe-inspiring experience.

Nahanni National Park Reserve

The Nahanni River flows through the heart of the Nahanni National Park Reserve, a vast and protected wilderness area that encompasses over 30,000 square kilometers. Established in 1976, the park is home to a diverse array of flora and fauna, including grizzly bears, wolves, caribou, and over 180 species of birds. The pristine ecosystem of the Nahanni National Park Reserve provides a sanctuary for wildlife and offers visitors a glimpse into the untouched beauty of the Canadian wilderness.

Thrilling Whitewater Rapids

While the Nahanni River's stunning scenery is undeniably captivating, it is the thrilling whitewater rapids that truly define the river's character.

Adventurers seeking an adrenaline-pumping experience will find their match in the Class III and Class IV rapids that await them along the river's course. Negotiating these rapids requires skill, teamwork, and an unyielding spirit of adventure.

Wildlife Encounters

Throughout your journey down the Nahanni River, you will be surrounded by the abundant wildlife that calls this pristine wilderness home. Keep an eye out for grizzly bears foraging along the riverbanks, moose grazing in the meadows, and eagles soaring overhead. Encountering these magnificent creatures in their natural habitat is a truly unforgettable experience that will create lasting memories.
