A Journey Through Time

With unparalleled curiosity and an insatiable thirst for knowledge, John Lloyd Stephens embarked on an extraordinary expedition to the Middle East in the 1830s. Equipped with an artist companion, Frederick Catherwood, Stephens documented his experiences in breathtaking detail, capturing the essence of the lands he explored.

From the pyramids of Giza to the lost city of Petra, Stephens's writings and Catherwood's intricate illustrations bring to life the grandeur of ancient civilizations. They traverse the Nile River, navigating its treacherous waters to uncover the secrets of pharaonic Egypt.

Their journey extends beyond Egypt, into the enigmatic lands of Arabia Petraea and the Holy Land. Stephens describes the towering sandstone cliffs of Petra, chiseled by time and human hands to form an awe-inspiring city. He ventures into the biblical landscapes of Palestine, tracing the footsteps of Jesus and encountering the diverse cultures of the Middle East.
